

HAWAII IS FOR KUHIO

Bright Prospects On the Big Isle.

HILLO, October 31.—The last round of the Hawaii Republican speakers was begun yesterday at Waipio where a party of campaigners from this city met the Republican candidates for the senate, J. D. Paris and S. L. Desha. Those from Hilo were James D. Lewis, George W. Paty, J. M. Kawila, and Edward Kekoa. These gentlemen will hold meetings at various places this side of Waipio, arriving in Hilo Saturday afternoon. Saturday night there will be a grand Republican rally at Waialae bridge, where a number of candidates will address the crowd.

On Monday night the last big Republican blowout of the campaign will be held in Hilo at the Japanese Theatre. Everybody should be on hand to take part in the last meeting in order to share in the glory of the victory which is sure to come the next day. Through Admiral Beckley the Republican managers on the other side of the island forwarded to Chairman C. L. Crabbe last Wednesday morning the statement that the Second district on the island will return a majority of 600 for Prince Kūhiō. It is predicted that if all the votes get out, that Kūhiō will have 1,000 and Wilcox 400.—Tribune.

HILLO BANANAS FINE.
That Hilo bananas have made a hit in San Francisco is shown by the following extract from a letter written by Porter Brothers & Co., of that city, to Peter Lee, their representative here: "These are certainly very fine bananas and if you will continue to give us this class of fruit we will be able to do a large business with you."

Referring to the first shipment of 302 bunches, the letter says: "There were some bunches which were a total loss, but only a few; some of them were a little ripe, but as a whole they arrived in splendid shape."

"There is only one thing we wish to suggest, and that is that you use the native grass instead of the leaves to place next to the bananas. The leaves get among the bananas, and they present an unattractive appearance, whereas grass would be much cleaner and better."

By this Enterprise Mr. Lee is shipping about 500 bunches which will grade much higher than the previous shipment and will further build up the reputation of Hilo bananas in the market. The only thing the grower must look out for is the packing. This, if well done, will guarantee the supremacy of the Hilo bananas on the Coast.—Tribune.

WILL VISIT OLAH.
The party of San Francisco capitalists who are visiting the islands under the guidance of L. A. Thurston are John Lloyd, president of the German Savings and Loan Society, San Francisco; George Tourney, cashier of the institution just named; Henry Crocker and wife, of San Francisco, and A. Kaine, assistant manager of the San Francisco branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. They left the Claudine at Kawaihae yesterday and spent last night at Honokaa. They will probably reach Hilo this afternoon or tomorrow morning.—Herald.

LITTLE ROASTS HAPAI.
Judge Little takes a hit at magistrate Hapai in the case of Central Meat Market vs. Frank Winter, et al. In reversing the district court Little says:

"The record of the cause below discloses through an affidavit of Wm. H. Beers, clerk of said court, and Thomas C. Ridgway, counsel for defendant in the cause, that the judgment was obtained by methods entirely unbecomingly to the practice in any court and should not be permitted by the Judge, and the affidavits themselves were entirely sufficient to have caused the judge to set aside the judgment upon the motion made."

WOULD-BE DENTIST ARRESTED.
Matsumu Yuhoki aspired to be a professional man and chose the calling of a dentist. After one or two days close application to his new vocation on the road to Hakalau he was caught by the police and is now in jail awaiting trial for practicing dentistry without a certificate.

His outfit was as simple as modern invention could make it. It was all contained in one little hand basket. He evidently had called at a near by blacksmith shop where he had his tools made to order on the anvil. He had iron forceps and tongs galore, with rows of porcelain teeth strung on rubber. He had red wax for taking impressions of toothless palates, and a score of little chisels, evidently made from knitting needles. His interesting kit of tools will be on exhibition in the district court on November 5.—Tribune.

EMPEROR'S BIRTHDAY.
The Japanese residents of this district will celebrate the birthday of Emperor Kinjo at Hoolulu Park next Monday. The athletic events will take place in the morning, and in the afternoon there will be some good horse races. The best stock in the district has been in training for these events for the past two months, and good sport is promised.—Herald.

TRIED TO SCALP HIS WIFE.
Young Mau, the Front Street poultry dealer, who recently took upon himself a 15-year-old Porto Rican wife, and who tried to scalp her with a long knife last Monday evening, is furnishing the jail authorities with an unlimited amount of fine acting. His performance is of the continuous vaudeville sort, with variations from the sematose poses of the opossum to the wildcat freaks of a maniac. In short the pake seems to prefer the asylum to the penitentiary, and is making every effort to exhibit qualifications for the former place. The offense for which Young Mau is in custody is a fierce assault upon his better half. Monday evening, in company with another Porto Rican woman, his spouse was walking near the postoffice. The husband sprang from a place where he had secreted himself, and began slashing his wife with the knife. Before assistance could arrive he had inflicted several wounds. The woman was taken to the hospital and her enraged husband was lodged in jail.—Tribune.

HILLO'S AVENUE.
The intention of the Superintendent of Public Works to make an eighty foot avenue of Front street is one that should receive every encouragement from the people of Hilo. One of the chief eye-sores, in fact the only one of consequence that marks the beauty and attractiveness of Hilo, is Front street. Not the street alone, but the character of the improvements along either side. Whatever property owners or lease holders along this street can do to assist in its improvement will be money in their own pockets. It will be short-sighted business policy to block the enterprise.

An eighty-foot avenue from the Waialae river to the center of the city would be a monument to the generation that puts it through.

Government lands between this thoroughfare and tide water should be disposed of with caution by the authorities. Hilo as a municipality will one day be largely interested in the character of her waterfront, and present territorial officials should keep this consideration in mind.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES.
W. P. Jarvis, who has been in the employ of A. B. Loebenstein as surveyor and draughtsman for three years past, leaves on the Enterprise en route to Porto Rico.

A representative of Wilcox arrived in Honokaa yesterday from Honolulu. The feeling against Wilcox is so strong in that village that the man could not get accommodations.

A patent has been granted A. R. Lucas and O. Jeppson for a centrifugal cane juice cleaner to be added between the Deming and the triple effect, thereby doing away with settling tanks and skimming pans.

W. P. Jarvis left by the Enterprise to permanently locate at Oakland, Cal. Mr. Jarvis has been a resident of Hilo for the past five years, and leaves many friends behind. He is a civil engineer and goes at once into the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

The Planters' Association of this island held a meeting yesterday at Fireman's hall at which various practical questions were discussed.

preme Court, and that the names were taken from the tax and registration lists, while the law does not require a grand juror to be either a voter or a tax payer. It was further set out that the drawing should have been one hundred names instead of fifty and that all these things tend to the manifest wrong, injury and oppression of the said James H. Boyd, now here in his proper person, and violate his rights and privileges under the Constitution of the United States, and particularly under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and Section 83 of the Organic Act of this Territory, and the laws of this Territory.

Humphreys said he desired no argument, unless the Territory did, and Deputy Attorney General Cathcart saying he had nothing to say, Judge De Bolt promptly overruled the motion.

Following an assignment of the civil calendar to Judge Robinson and the excusing of certain grand jurors, Humphreys again arose and said he wished to challenge the array before it was sworn, for the reasons given in his motion, and also for the reason that the power and jurisdiction of the court is vested in three judges and not in one, and consequently Judge De Bolt did not have the power to charge the grand jury.

Judge De Bolt denied the challenge and proceeded to charge the jury. While reading the last page of his charge, Judge De Bolt was again interrupted by Humphreys, who said he again desired to challenge the grand jury and hoped "that the Supreme Court of the United States would take the liberty of dissenting from your honor."

George Davis who had just entered, said he wanted to challenge the jury also on behalf of H. H. Wright, on the same grounds, adding that he hadn't seen the motion. He said that the court had no power to divide itself and that the statute was exceeded in the assumption of this power. The challenge was promptly denied in each instance.

Then Davis made the challenge on behalf of A. D. Thompson, the tax clerk charged with embezzlement, and it was also denied. When some one told the attorney that Thompson had already been indicted by the last grand jury he withdrew his challenge.

OTHER CRIMINAL MATTERS.
The transition cases, six of them, went over for the term, because of the appeal pending in the United States Supreme Court in the Osaki Mankichi case.

W. T. Rawlins was appointed to defend Umemoto, and S. H. Derby to defend O. Carpa.

Cecil Brown withdrew from the case of Enoka, as he leaves for San Francisco tomorrow. C. F. Clemmons was appointed in his place.

Judge De Bolt is disqualified in the case of the Territory vs. Yowell and the case was assigned to Judge Robinson. The same disposition was made of Territory vs. Lin Choy.

PETIT JURY CALLED.

The trial jury was called in the afternoon. Guy Kekey, T. F. Richards and Chang Chow were excused for the term.

SHARES GO UP A LITTLE

Sugar Securities Now on Better Basis Here.

Within the month which has just passed the Hawaiian plantations have advanced in value, taking the values of the shares on the local board as the basis of the appreciation, some $5,000,000. These figures are based, not only on the selling prices of the shares, but on the bid prices on the streets, which in many cases exceeded those which have been the ruling ones on the board.

Expectation, it might be said even certainty, of Republican success has caused the investors to take up the various shares, until the advances since the beginning of last month have been such that on the markets of the mainland they would be called phenomenal. The list has advanced as a whole, and while some stocks may have shown an appreciation out of the ordinary, it was due more to special features than to the general better feeling in the market.

Placing Ewa at the head of the list, thirty days past the better feeling was just beginning. The stock had declined under the pressure of the decrease in dividend, and when the month just closed opened, that stock was quoted at $19.25. When the month of October closed the stock was at $23, and the feeling was so strong that a point must now be added. This alone would mean an addition of nearly a million to the value of the plantation, which has been regarded as one of the best on the islands.

But this plantation is not the only one which has seen an increase in its stock by the growing better feeling which has been the outcome of the sentiment for better government, which is expected to result from the victory of the Republican forces. Hawaii Sugar Company one month ago was worth only $20, and now the price bid for stock, which is practically off the market, is $23. Kahuku is not one of the speculative plantations in the general sense of the word, but where its stock was held at $20 a month past, the price bid for the shares today is close to that which is asked, $24. Kihel plantation has added to its stock an advance of $1 a share during the period, and the price asked is $9, or $2 advance, and yet no stock has come out. McBryde was at $3 a month past, and now there is a bid of $4.50, which means an advance of $1,750,000 on the stock of the plantation.

On this island the principal speculative stock, perhaps, is Oahu, and while on the last opening day the stock was at $65, the bid price now is $80, and the asked price is $10 above that figure. Ooaka has added to its asked price $3, and there is none of the stock on the market.

Olan, while there was only $0 per cent. paid on the assessable at the opening of last month, has had put in the treasury only $2 a share, and yet from a price of $3.75, the stock has been run up to $12.50 bid and a half point more asked. The paid up stock of the corporation has advanced within the month $5 a share, the price then being $7.50.

Pioneer Mill Company has shown, during the period under discussion an advance of $5 a share all around, but this is laid in the shade by the addition to the sale price of Waialua of $15 on each share. Of the entire list the shares of Waialua have shown the greatest appreciation, when from a sale at $250 the stock went up to $300, and there is now on the shares a figure of $325 asked.

These represent the advances in the sugar shares which are listed on the local exchange, and there has been on the other industries an advance quite in proportion in one stock, Oahu Railway and Land Company, where the shares have gone from $5 to $35 within the month.

These appreciations will show the advances in the value of the various securities more than sufficient to indicate that there has been the growth of five millions in the wealth of the Territory within the month which has seen the growth of Republican sentiment.

REVENUE CUTTER CADETS.

A Coming Chance for Young Fellows to Don the Blue.

James R. Garfield, acting president of the Civil Service Commission, writes to A. B. Ingalls, secretary of the local Board of Examiners, as follows:

Mr. A. B. Ingalls,

Secretary Board of Examiners, Custom House, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Sir:—In reply to your letter of September 3rd, you are informed that examinations for the position of cadet in the revenue cutter service are held only when eligibles are needed and are duly announced in the public press. Inclosed herewith is a copy of the announcement of the last examination held for this position. Inclosed here-with are six copies of form 576, and you are advised that if Mr. E. B. Stackable has anyone in mind who desires to be examined for the position of cadet in the revenue cutter service and will have such person or persons fill in the detachable stub of this form and return it to the Commission arrangements will be made to permit these persons to enter the next examination at Honolulu which may be held.

Very respectfully,
JAMES RUDOLPH GARFIELD,
Acting President.

The comet will pass so near to Mercury that astronomers will be able to calculate the mass of the planet.

THE MAUI OUTLOOK

Wilcox Probably Is Beaten There.

MAUI, Nov. 1.—Politics in the third election district have been quiescent during the past week. The candidates of the several parties have been on the "still hunt," doing house to house visitation and having "heart to heart" talks with voters.

Senator S. Kalua and Representative F. W. Beckley, the most influential of the Home Rule orators—did some effective work at Pauwela, Ulupalakua, recently, so it is reported, though the Republicans claim that the results of their efforts were overestimated and that the few backsliders have repented and returned to Republican principles.

A conservative prophet would say that the result of Nov. 4th's election for delegate will be an exceedingly close one in the third district. West Maui, Ulupalakua, and Kihel, taken as a whole, which altogether represent about 900 votes, are in favor of Home Rule doctrines. East Maui, Kahului and Puunene, representing 700 votes are on the Republican side. If the third district consisted entirely of the island of Maui, Wilcox would probably win over Kalaniana'ole, but Kaulapapa, Molokai, with 255 votes, is probably Republican. That makes 955 in favor of Kūhiō to 900 for Wilcox. The Pukoo precinct (the remainder of Molokai) with 167 votes, will probably decide matters as far as the election of delegate is concerned and Pukoo is claimed by both parties and may therefore be termed doubtful. If Pukoo goes Republican then Kūhiō will be elected.

Now as to senator and representative, there are Democratic and independent nominees who will take far more votes from the Home Rule than from the Republican party; hence it may be said that the Republicans will win out for senator and for three or four representatives.

C. H. Dickey will probably be elected senator and S. Kellinot and Philip Pali for representatives on the Republican side and F. W. Beckley and Louis Kookoo on the Home Rule ticket. This estimate leaves two representatives unnamed but they will be probably Republicans.

No "landslides" either for one party or the other have been considered in the foregoing prophecy.

Superintendent Carley of the Maui Telephone Co. has made arrangements with the different precincts of Maui to obtain the full election returns as soon as they are counted and complete. The Pala office will be open all night Nov. 4th, to communicate election returns to subscribers. Arrangements have also been made with the Republican headquarters, at Honolulu, to get returns from the different islands, so that Mr. Carley will be able to give them out for delegate to congress within twenty-four hours after closing of the polls.

The Republican Territorial Committee have appointed a man in each precinct to immediately after the closing of the polls send complete election returns of his precinct to Honolulu. The campaign on Maui will be concluded by a large mass meeting at Lahaina, Sunday evening, the 2d, at which Prince Kūhiō will try again to break into the Home Rule ranks.

DEATH OF WM. ANDERSON.

Last night, Oct. 31st, William Anderson of Kirremuir, Scotland, after an illness of several years, died at the residence of his brother-in-law, D. C. Lindsay of Paia. About two years ago Mr. Anderson came to Maui, hoping that the mild atmosphere of Hawaii would stay the ravages of disease contracted in the cold climate of his native land, but to no purpose. However, his life was prolonged, and his suffering was less severe in this land of the tropics. Mr. Anderson leaves a widow and two children in Scotland to mourn for him. He was much respected by all who knew him for his quiet manner, pleasing disposition and upright character. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 p. m. from the home of Mr. Lindsay, Paia, Rev. Dr. E. G. Beckwith performing the ceremony.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The annual bazaar of the Makawao Ladies' Aid Society will take place the evening of the 14th, on the large lawn of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin's residence, Spreckelsville.

The "Morning Stars" seem to be invincible at all games. They have just won the championship of Maui at baseball and now they win at football. The first football of the season on Maui took place at Wells' Park, Waialua, the afternoon of October 26th, before a large crowd of people which more than filled the grand stand. The attendance was large in spite of the rain. The score after a stubborn game stood twelve goals to five against the eleven of the Athletic Association, or the "Waialukas" as they are called.

The literary entertainment and dancing party which took place last Saturday evening, Oct. 25th, at Hotel Renwick, Puunene, was a great success. The attendance was large from all parts of central Maui. The young men of Puunene make most excellent hosts.

Last evening, Oct. 31st, a riding party of Makawao young folks visited Puunene mill. Miss Agnes Fleming issued invitations.

The four that will represent Maui at the coming polo tournament in Honolulu will probably be H. A. Baldwin, No. 1; Geo. Wilbur, No. 2; F. E. Baldwin, No. 3; and L. Von Tempisky, full-back and captain. They played a practice game the afternoon of Oct. 25th, and another the afternoon of Oct. 30th. The latter resulted in a tie. Harry Copp is again on Maui and has been asked to play in the practice games.

Four of the Republican candidates for representatives have been educated at Lohiainaluna Seminary.—Messrs. Pali, Nakalea, Hala, and Kalama, S. Kellinot graduated from a New York normal school.

Weather: A kona now blowing.

FROM THE MAUI NEWS.
W. E. Henning, sugar boiler at the Pioneer Mill, Lahaina, returned home from the Coast this week. Mrs. Henning will return in December.

Mr. A. W. Wise, manager of the Paia Plantation store, left for the coast on the Nevada, to recuperate from a recent severe spell of sickness.

Attorney George Hons, accompanied by his mother, arrived in Waialua by Wednesday's Maui, and will immediately resume the practice of his profession. The payment of taxes has looked up a good deal of Maui's floating capital, but the coming legislature will diffuse it again, all right, all right.

Manager Barkhausen is planning to start up the Pioneer mill about the 15th of November, to grind the new crop, which promises to be a large one.

There are 468 registered voters in the Waialua precinct, and as the law permits the use of only three voting booths it will take fast work to vote them all.

The Ladies' Guild of Waialua, announce that their annual fair for the benefit of the Waialua church will be held on the evening of November 8th, at Alexander House, Waialua.

BY WIRELESS TO KAUAI NOW

If no mishap occurs to mar arrangements that have already been perfected, election returns from Kauai may be received by wireless telegraph tonight. F. J. Cross returned from Nawiliwili on Sunday, after completing the wireless station there, and left yesterday afternoon for Kaena Point, where he expected to receive the first message over the new line last night.

The Kauai wireless station is located about 1,200 feet from the Nawiliwili lighthouse. The office at that point is connected by telephone with the telephone system of the Garden Isle.

Messages will leave the station at Nawiliwili, and speed across the Kaie channel to Kaena Point, on Oahu, where they will be received and sent on to Honolulu. Kaena Point is close to Waialae, and connections can easily be made from that point to Honolulu. This work was to be fixed up by Mr. Cross yesterday, and he expects to have everything in readiness to handle the election day returns.

A wireless station will be located in Republican headquarters, so that all messages may be received direct.

FRENCH VESSELS NOW ON WAY HERE

The usual passage from Cardiff to this port is about 120 days, and two coal laden French vessels are now out considerably more than that time. In fact, four French bounty-earning vessels are now due here from Cardiff, and may be expected to arrive at any time. They are the bark Vincennes, out 142 days; the bark Duchesse de Berry, out 124 days; the bark Brizeux out 112 days; and the bark Champagne, out 91 days. The French bark Anne de Bretagne is out 121 days from Penarth.

These vessels all have coal, which has been sold to the navy department for use at the naval station here, and it is likely that in future most of the vessels arriving here from English ports carrying coal will be Frenchmen, as the bounty paid to ship owners by that government will permit them to carry cargoes of coal at a much less rate than English or American owners could afford to do it.

The French vessels leave but little money in Honolulu. They berth at government wharves and their sailors secure such small wages that they have little to spend here. Even captains are poorly paid, their wages often amounting to no more than $45 a month, and sailors secure anything from $10 to $12 a month. These amounts are so small that the French sailor is paralyzed when he learns that the price of a glass of beer equals one-half of a franc in his own money, and other things are correspondingly dear.

But there are some American ships now on the way that will offset the cheapness of the Frenchmen. The bark Fooning Suey is out 71 days from New York, and the barkentine Encore and ship Emily F. Whitney are on the way from the nitrate ports. The big ship Benjamin F. Packard is now out 51 days from Norfolk, with coal from Norfolk.

Three vessels are out about 40 days from Newcastle. They are the barks Abbey Palmer and Excelsior and the barkentine Benicia.

Tortoise Shell Voucher.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—United States Consul Evans forwarded to the Pension Bureau in Washington this week what is probably the most curious voucher of identification ever filed in a pension case. The voucher consists of the shell of a field tortoise with the name "Bob Williams" scratched on the under side. It was sent to Consul General Evans from Christ church, New Zealand, where the applicant for a pension is now living and is accompanied by letters and affidavits which explain that the soldier's real name is William Wright but that he enlisted under the name of "Williams." William Wright says in his application that he caught the tortoise during the Shenandoah campaign and afterward gave the shell to Mrs. Mary Johnson of Port Henry, Essex county, New York, who kept it until recently when Wright decided to apply for a pension and sent to New York for the shell in order to identify himself as Williams, under which name he served in Company E, Twenty-sixth Infantry.

News From Boyd.

That Cooper has succeeded in capturing Boyd's office, which pays $1,500 a year more than his own, seems to be indicated by the following brief telegram received in Hilo Wednesday evening: "Forced out by Dole. Record clean.—J. H. BOYD.—Hilo Tribune, organ of the Kennedys."

GRAND JURY MUST WORK

New Court Term Will Open Today.

(From Monday's Daily.)

What will be probably the most important term of court held in the Territory since its organization will be opened this morning at 9:30 o'clock by Judge J. T. De Bolt. The grand jury which will be instructed at that time will be charged with the investigation of the affairs of the government, principally in relation to the Public Works and the Treasury departments. Both B. H. Wright and J. H. Boyd have been held by Judge Wilcox to answer to the grand jury, and undoubtedly the Treasurer Wright case will also be presented. Whether or not the investigation extends into other departments of the Territorial government depends upon the grand jury itself, for that body has the undoubted right to probe into the conduct of any of the officers, other, of course, than those which are Federal in their nature.

This will be Judge De Bolt's first term of court, and his charge to the grand jury will be awaited with interest, as it is expected to go into the affairs of the Capitol building. He will inaugurate a new practice for the Honolulu courts, in that a copy of the written charge will be placed in the hands of the grand jury for their guidance. Former Judges, though making charges of great length, delivered them more for oratorical and political effect, which the jurors specially forgot, or ignored after reaching the jury room.

Besides Territorial affairs, there are a number of serious crimes to be investigated. The burning of the Friel home, the murder of a Jap boy in Iwilei the other night, and several cases of arson, are also to be looked into. Altogether, the grand jury will have a busy time, and its sessions will probably extend over a period of several weeks.

The members drawn for the grand jury, though all will not serve, are as follows:

Sereno E. Bishop, M. I. Silva, W. H. Thornton, Anthony W. Senbury, E. T. Winant, John C. Lane, E. S. Cunha, H. A. Parmalee, John Waterhouse, Charles A. Galt, Charles B. Wilson, Ho Fon, Edward H. F. Wolter, A. Gartenberg, Will C. King, M. A. Peixoto, James G. Spencer, A. S. Cleghorn, Charles D. Chase, A. Frank Cooke, Peter C. Jones, and Daniel Kaeo.

Deputy Attorney General J. W. Cathcart will represent the Territory in the deliberations before the jury. Judge De Bolt is to take charge of all the criminal work at the present time, being the presiding judge, while the civil calendar will be referred to Judge Robinson. He will begin work immediately upon opening court this morning, and call the civil calendar.

His jury is composed as follows: F. S. Dortch, Samuel Nowlein, F. J. Dutra, Charles Marquez, Charles Lazarus, John C. Chune, Alexander Lazarus, H. E. Hendrick, Joseph K. Zablun, John K. Kamonick, William Mutch, John Oudekirk, William Lyle, William T. Paty, C. Bolman, and A. Parnes.

Judge De Bolt's trial jury is not called to meet until this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The juryman drawn for it are as follows:

K. B. Porter, Eugene P. Sullivan, Jessin Andrade, J. Oswald Luttid, Guy T. Kelly, Warren Bogle, L. J. Nahora Hipa, Theodore Richards, Lot P. Fernandez, Husto de la Cruz, A. E. Murphy, Henry Hickey, George Fern, Wm. L. Peterson, B. S. Gregory, Chang Chan, A. K. Ieira, J. D. Cockett, James Nott, C. A. R. Makaena, Caesar Vieira, F. T. P. McIntyre, and Samuel C. Dwight.

No trial will be taken up, although the criminal calendar will be called. All juryman will be excused today until Wednesday morning because of election day.

Judge De Bolt will hold court in the Supreme Court room, while Judge Robinson will preside over the sessions in the new court room, formerly used as chambers by Judge Humphreys. The grand jury will be given the remaining new court room, which was made over from the stenographer's offices.

Judge Gear will sit in chambers, and all chambers matters will be assigned to him. The second judge dissents from the ruling of the majority that circuit judges may sit concurrently, and will flock by himself at this term of court. In the meantime it is expected that the Supreme Court may pass upon the en banc question, or that the legislature will amend the law to suit Judge Gear.

PARIS GETS OFF.

George H. Paris escaped punishment for contempt through an omission in the citation of a specification of the offense committed. Paris skipped out immediately, and was not within hearing of the court when Attorney Andrews asked that something be done anyway. Judge Robinson severely criticized the action of Paris, saying, when assured by his attorney that he was ready to make an accounting, that the defendant had shown himself all along not to be acting in good faith. The matter was finally referred to Referee Simonton, and Paris will be given one more opportunity to escape punishment for contempt of court.

A large family of children, the eldest fifteen, are living alone in a forest shack in Washington, seven miles from a neighbor, owing to the request of their dying mother that they keep together. They are slowly starving.
